Exploring Strategies to Increase Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity at Your CDFI and Beyond

Alan Branson
Hope Enterprise Corporation/Hope Credit Union
November 11, 2015

Mission

- Strengthen communities, build assets and improve lives in economically distressed areas in the Mid South by providing access to affordable, high-quality financial products and related services.

- Leverage private, public and philanthropic resources to tackle development hurdles facing low-income communities that cannot be addressed by any one sector by itself.
Quick History

- 1994 - Enterprise Corporation of the Delta started as 501(c)3 loan fund
- 1995 – Hope Credit Union started as church-based community credit union
- 2002 – ECD becomes sponsor of HOPE. Staff is merged. Separate Boards.
- 2004 – New Markets Tax Credit Capitalization / Secondary Capital
- 2005 - Katrina
- 2008-2010 – Hope Credit Union merges three more credit unions.
- 2011 – Brand is unified. ECD becomes Hope Enterprise Corporation.
- 2012-now – Bank Deserts / Expansion

Not Just Hiring....

- Board composition
- Promotions
- Pay levels
- Discipline/Terminations
- Customers/Ownership
- Vendors
- Partners
- Reputation management
From the beginning...

- Leadership from the top
- Not formalized – continuous discussion
- Buy-in from senior/middle managers
- Have to push - accountability

Addition of HR...

- After Katrina - Time of rapid growth
- Invaluable - if right people in place
- Formalized Affirmative Action Plan
  - Federal contractor requirement
  - Annual EEOC reviews
    - Formalizes part of the process
    - Risk mitigation
    - Minimum threshold
Current/future efforts...

- HBCU partnerships/hiring
- Bilingual staff expansion (Spanish/English)
  - New networks
  - Related work
  - Existing staff – develop Spanish-speaking skills
- More formalized development tracks
  - Internal and external resources
- Expansion of MWOB lending
- Expansion of Retail networks

Mission

- Strengthen communities, build assets and improve lives in economically distressed areas in the Mid South by providing access to affordable, high-quality financial products and related services.
- Leverage private, public and philanthropic resources to tackle development hurdles facing low-income communities that cannot be addressed by any one sector by itself.
Alan Branson
Hope Credit Union
Hope Enterprise Corporation
alan.branson@hope-ec.org
Exploring Strategies to Increase Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity at your CDFI and Beyond

Cooperative Finance Leaders for America (CFLA)
Pamela Owens, Vice President of Programs
NFCDCU

National Federation of Community Development Credit Unions

To help low- and moderate-income people and communities achieve financial independence through credit unions.
Who We Are

- The Federation was established in 1974 to promote financial inclusion
- Organize, support and invest in credit unions serving low-and moderate-income consumers
- Fast growing network:
  - 228 member credit unions in all 50 states
  - 3 million combined members served
  - $25 billion in combined CDCU assets
- Most Federation members are low income designated, CDFI-certified, or both
- Member assets range from less than $5 million to more than $5 billion
- Member Credit Unions
  - 80% Urban
  - 20% Rural

What We Do

Innovation

- Develop new products and services to reach LMI consumers
- Foster strategic partnerships to expand service delivery
- Identify, document and promote best practices

Investments

- Invest more than $30 million in member credit unions
- Strengthen member’s financial position to expand impact

Capacity-Building

- Technical assistance, webinars, practical tools, guides,
- Consulting services support CDCUs at all stages of development
Cooperative Finance Leaders for America (CFLA)

- Funded through a grant from Citi Community Development
- Objectives
  1. Recruit and support new, emerging leaders in the credit union/cooperative finance movement;
  2. Gives current credit union employees a chance to make a bigger impact and new recruits a chance to learn the fundamentals of finance appropriate for low and moderate income communities;
  3. Allows new leaders to inject fresh ideas and perspectives to an aging movement;
  4. Hands-on experience working with low and moderate-income communities.

CFLA 2013-2015
CFLA Alum

Rachel Barker, Holy Rosary CU (Kansas City, MO):
Started work like as loan officer for commercial bank now Director of Branch Operations.

Monique Dunbar, CU of Atlanta (Atlanta, GA):
Started career as marketing officer for commercial bank. Currently the Interim CEO.

For more information about the CFLA program, please visit our website at: www.cdcu.coop
Or
Contact Pamela Owens at powens@cdcu.coop/ 212 809-1850, Ext. 215
Exploring Strategies to Increase Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity

Vicky Garcia - SVP Strategy & Risk Management
Latino Community CU

Diversity, Inclusion and Equity must be aligned with the big picture vision and goals of the institution
Our members are diverse:

LCCU employees represent the community that we serve:
LCCU Board represent the community that we serve:

Hiring Philosophy

- Potential to grow
- Experience in the financial system in their country of origin or the US
- We value education obtained outside the US
- DACA
Growth from within

Career path • Training • Leadership program

#OFNCONF
Questions?

Cooperativa Latino Credit Union

#OFNCONF